WORKSHOP ON SKILL DEVELOPMENT: EXPERIENCES FROM EXPERTS TO STRATEGISE CAREER PRIORITIES OF PUBLIC HEALTH NUTRITIONISTS

Date: 30/09/2020

Time: 10:00 am -4:00 pm

Concept note

In recent times, the field of Public Health and Nutrition (PHN) is increasingly recognized in the development agenda of India. The nutrition transition over the last four decades led to wide changes in the food consumption, family food environment and nutritional status of Indians. The nutrition transition has translated to a modest improvement in undernutrition and micronutrient deficiencies and the rising prevalence of overweight and obesity among Indians. While undernutrition remains an unfinished agenda, there is a need to focus on the obesity and associated chronic diseases emerging in the epidemic forms in India. In this scenario, public health nutritionists have vital roles in improving the nutrition scenario of the country.

The public health nutrition in universities is focused on academic and community orientations that provide limited insights to the real-world opportunities and exposures to the students. The learning often remains to frequent visits to the community and organizations around the academic institutions, which could be augmented with insights from experts and heroes who have contributed immensely to public health and nutrition. The present webinar would offer an opportunity to draw upon and harness the collective experiences of these experts working in public health and nutrition either through organizations or academia. We have the pleasure to welcome you to a unique national webinar to enhance the learnings and wisdom to shape your career in public health nutrition.

Who should attend?

Graduate and Postgraduate students from Public Health, Nutrition and Dietetics, PhD scholars, Food Science and Nutrition, Home Science, Family and Community Studies, Academicians, people interested working with Public, NGOs, and others who are either working with community, and Medical and Allied Health Professionals.

Dear Professor Joe Thomas,

Greetings!

Thank you for agreeing to contribute to the National Webinar organized in association with NSI, NETPROFAN, IAPEN and IDA. We organize the same to celebrate the National Nutrition Month.

We thought it would be great to showcase the experiences of experts in Public health and nutrition and to orient, motivate and stimulate their thought processes to improve the health and nutritional status of populations. Also, the webinar would aim to provide insights into real work scenarios and opportunities in these areas for public health and nutrition professionals.

Please let us know your topic and preferred time for the Webinar on 30th September 2020.

Warm regards,
Kavitha

Dear Indu madam,

Greetings!

As shared with you over the phone, I would like to invite you as one of the esteemed speakers for an upcoming webinar series that is being planned by the Nutrition and Dietetics Programme, Symbiosis International (Deemed University) at Pune.

We offer a two year Masters programme in Nutrition and Dietetics with three specializations- Public Health Nutrition, Clinical Nutrition and Dietetics and Nutrigenomics.

The webinar is spread across 4 days- 26, 28, 29 and 30th September. Each day of the webinar will focus on one specialization of Foods and Nutrition. Food Science on 26-9-20, Clinical Nutrition and Dietetics on 28-9-2020, Nutrigenomics on 29-9-20 and on 30-9-20 Public Health Nutrition.

We would really be grateful if you take out some time to give a lecture related to Public Health Nutrition on 30th September 2020, in line of this year's National Nutrition month theme. The time slots will be 10-11 am, 11-12 noon, 1-3 pm and 2-3 pm.

Kindly let me know your suitable time slot and probable topic for further planning.

Hoping to hear from you soon.
Thank you.

Feedback from participants

The webinar titled 'Experiences of the experts to strategise career priorities to future Public Health Nutritionists' organized by Nutrition and Dietetics programme at SIHS and NSI-Pune Chapter as a part of National Nutrition Month celebrations was attended by participants from all over the country and abroad too in large numbers (264 attendees). The participation list included academicians, researchers, nutritionist, dieticians, public health experts and off course students.

The feedback obtained from the participants was overwhelming. Majority of the participants (96%) felt that the webinar was very well organized and apt to the proposed theme. The content shared and discussed by each speaker was highly appreciated by the attendees and it was rated as very useful by most of them.

All the sessions/talks were enjoyed by the participants and rated as very relevant ones. However the talk given by Prof. Joe Thomas on 'Child Malnutrition: Need for a Disruptive Public Health Agenda' was the most highly rated (67% participants) closely followed by talk of Ms. Rajalakshmi Nair from UNICEF on 'The Central role of Public Health Nutrition in the development agenda' (65% participants).
