Webinar on Skill Development: Corporate Readiness Program-4

Date-27th Aug 2020

As the students gear up to enter the corporate world, the placement cell of Symbiosis Institute of Health Sciences arranged a virtual “Corporate Readiness Boot Camp” via Google Meet for them. 27th August 2020 was the day 4 of this program. This day was graced by three speakers who spoke about various important topics to train the students for the new horizon.

The first session was about ‘Understanding Case Studies’ by Dr. Shrikrishna Dhale. He spoke in detail about how to solve the case studies given by the company recruiters. He explained the various steps which should be considered while solving the case studies. He also gave an example of the type of case studies which can be put up by the recruiters and had an interactive session with the attendees. He further explained to them of how the answers change according to the perspective of the students. In short, this session was a very interactive, informative and gave a real-life experience to the students about case study solution.

The next session was about ‘Various Interview Questions’ by Ms. Neha Ahire. She spoke about the importance of understanding oneself as the recruiter would be looking at the candidate with respect to the job profile and how the person will fit into the same. She explained the need to know about the organization in detail, about the position to excel in the interview. She also talked about various typical, atypical, and technical questions that recruiters ask to the candidates. She also emphasized on the importance of practicing the answers for typical and technical questions so that the candidate would be better prepared to face them during the interviews. The whole session was extremely insightful and gave the students idea about how personal interviews take place in the recruitment process.

The last, but not the least session was about ‘Handling Interviews’ by Capt. Jaison Thomas, who is not only a retired army official but also a corporate trainer. Capt. Thomas is a motivational speaker, life transforming coach, an avid choreographer, an influential & distinguished leader, his core competency lies in Teachers Training Program, Soft Skill Development, Faculty Development, Team Management and Students Training & Development. He enthusiastically spoke about explaining one’s weaknesses in such a way that those weaknesses also feel like strengths. He also spoke about the importance of believing in oneself to crack the interviews. Capt. Interacted with the students and asked them about themselves and later explained to them how they can improve their soft skills or introductions. He explained to the students the importance of focusing on details and how it helps during interviews. Overall, it was a very motivational, self-realization session for the attendees.

Lastly, I would like to express a very warm gratitude and utmost thanks to all the above speakers to give the attendees immense practical knowledge about the recruitment process.
