TOPICS COVERED

- INTEGRATED TELEHEALTH
- STRATEGIC SOURCING
- MODULAR INFRASTRUCTURE
- AI ASSISTED DIAGNOSIS
- ROBOTIC PROCESS AUTOMATION(RPA)
- TRANSITION TO AMBULATORY CARE AND DAY CARE SURGERY
- PREDICTION PLATFORMS
- MEDICAL INTERNET OF THINGS
- PATIENT SAFETY TECHNOLOGIES
- DIGITAL PAYMENT

POINT DISCUSSED

- AI-enabled computer applications will help primary care physicians to better identify patients who require extra attention and provide personalized protocols for each individual. Primary care physicians can use AI to take their notes, analyze their discussions with patients, and enter required information directly into EHR systems
- The AI concept was interesting and how healthcare industry during covid and every healthcare organization should appropriately adopt to perform automated and holistic diagnosis was explained by him.
- Medical organizations can use RPA (ROBOTIC PROCESS AUTOMATION) for handling patient records, claims, customer support, account management, billing, reporting and analytics
- Benefits of cloud computing as cloud computing is a new model of computing that promises to provide more flexible, less expensive and more efficient IT services to the users. This model can be a great opportunity for healthcare settings to improve information management
- With the help of RPA software, healthcare organizations can extract and optimize patient data more effortlessly
- Better management of health information and records leads to more accurate records. Decreasing human error makes HIMS a key solution for health IT infrastructure
- The combination of cloud computing with healthcare has the potential to improve a number of healthcare-related functions such as telemedicine, post-hospitalization care plans, and virtual medication adherence. It also improves access to healthcare services through telehealth.
- Application of EBM (evidence based medicine) into clinical decisions enhances the opportunity for optimal clinical outcomes & quality of life
- Also he cited many examples of medical internet of things
- Also he gave us insights on day care surgery, prediction platforms (all about labor costs, MI) and medical internet of things.
- Also we went through patient safety technologies which included CDS etc.

- We came across terms like virtual ICUs, tele ECG and home monitoring in modular infrastructure.
- He explained about home based care supported by AI, audio video based diagnostics.

After that there was a intensified Question and Answer session, many of the students from MBA HHM and MPH briefly interrogated with the speaker, asked their questions which were answered by the speaker Dr. Vijaya Raman J.S, Member of Academic committee, MBA-HHM, proposed the Vote of thanks. Dr. Roopashree, host of the academic event thanked the guest speaker formally.

CONCLUSION

The webinar session was interactive, it delivered various ideas and values which will be useful for the students to implement on themselves as well as to the healthcare organizations.
